Fast Times At

If Nordhoff is anything like the school in Fast Times at Ridgemont High - look out Dr. Molitor! With the large amount of surfers, party-goers, and Van Halen fans at Nordhoff, there is a definite similarity. But there is more control at this school than at Ridgemont. Even so, the students at Nordhoff cooperated with the teachers, despite their relaxed outlook on life. This cooperation was draining on the students at best. On the weekend they needed an outlet for their frustration. And what better place than a PARTY!

"Hey, Bud, let's party," was established as the official party-animal battle-cry. But despite the weekly partying, students managed good grades. They proved to be winners in a winning year.

1. Heading for the intramural volleyball match are seniors Sandra Gates, Cindy Rodarte, Connie Pridmore and Bill Wechsler.

2. Danny Svikhart, Steve Woodward, Richard Hawks, Rich Ramirez, Dave Wilson, Larry Messer, Tom Woodward, Mido Gutierrez and Ray Lopez show their spirit.

3. Can't you tell this is not Dina Deferios' day for tennis?

4. "Let me down," screams Suzanne Hellwitz. "No, you're going to watch this game if it kills you," yells Casey Kansler.

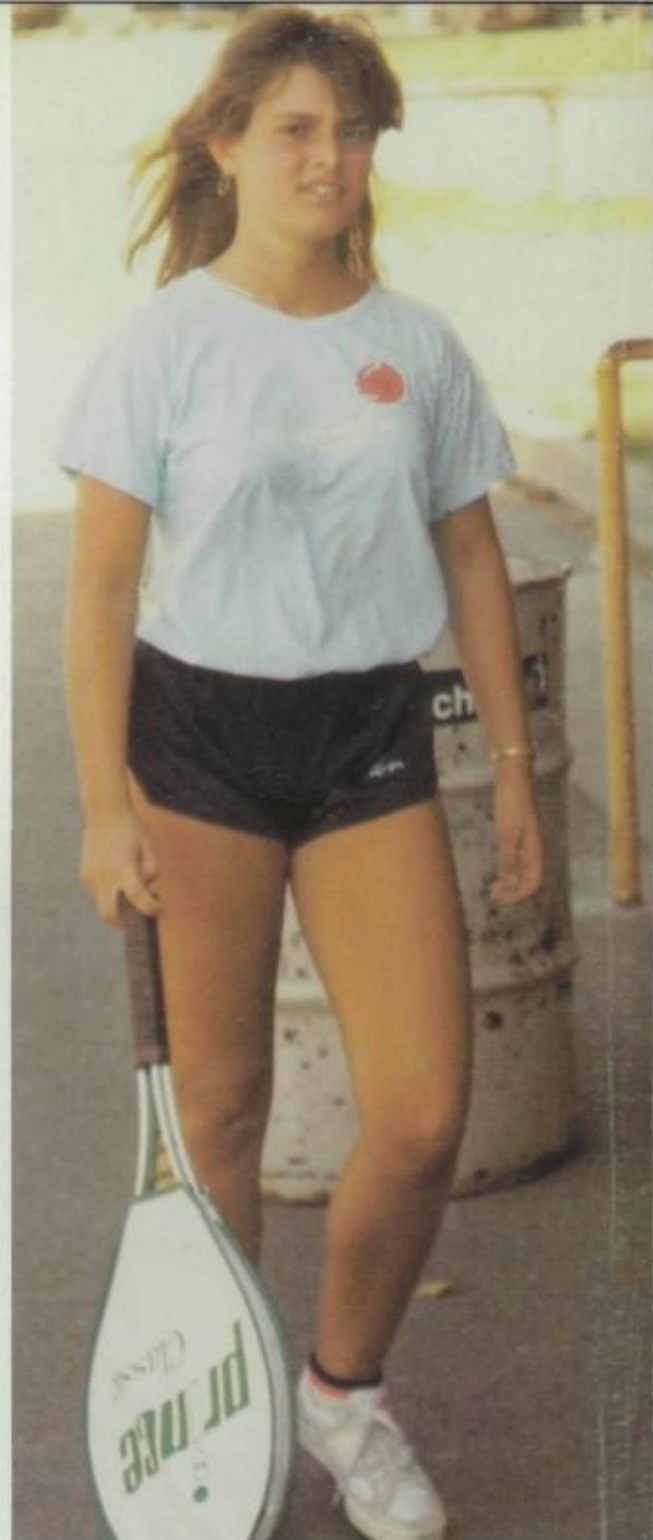

5. "Hey, no fun, ya didn't give me time to pose," thinks Richard Hawks.

6. Enjoying the festivities at snack are Traci Hanson, Shawna Rigby and Julie Tullberg.

7. Getting into the spirit of things are Jay Grove and Lori Hanson.

Rangers On The Loose

“This is my private life.” Even winners needed time out from the daily game of school. No matter what their interests, students found a place to go to wind-up or wind-down after school. The beach, downtown, or to a friend’s house were the places to go.

It would appear that students were more active after school than during. Of course, that is when they really came alive. In their personal after hours quests, students ‘went for the gusto’, ‘grasped the brass ring’ and still made it back to school Monday morning.

1. Danon Swendseid, Toni Burris, and Shelly Olson can't keep their eyes off all the cute guys.
2. Ready to sign with the L.A. Dodgers is Tammy "Slugger" Sexton.
3. Richard Ramirez bats a home run for the 12 Oz. Club.
4. Jamie Johnson and Tamara Sexton look forward to the race and hope Maraika Danisch and Jennifer Danisch can hold up.
5. Posing for a quick media photo after winning the game are Sean Mullahey, Eric Stone, James Johnson, Paul Alexander, Trung Seltzer, Ken Beisel and Brad Fernbaugh.
6. Either spectating, like Sandra Gates, or playing in the game, everyone had a great time at the BBQ held in early October.
7. Cheering on team members during the big game are Brian Wadsworth, Andrew Fay and John McNeil.

You've

If a student was at a loss for words, he or she sure didn't show it. Open mouths, wrinkled noses and uplifted eye-brows told more about a student than what (s)he said. Through every crisis and joy, every emotion was expressed with a look. Smiles, tears, and looks of disgust were the expressions of the year. "Smile pretty", "Don't think about him or her", and "What do you think you're doing?" All could be said with a look. If you could "judge a book by its cover", an expression was the way to do it.

1. Featuring his look of joy, Shaun Lopez dances off to class.
2. "No comment," replies Christine Brand when Karen Gross says she's only half there.
3. Pat McNeil displays the scholarly look that so astounds friends and teachers alike.
4. John Harnett's look of apprehension just before lift off.
5. Kodjoe Mawudeku: every woman wants him, every man is jealous of him, and all because . . . he's got the look.
6. Doug Martin says, "Look, this is just between me and Brook."
7. "Don't look now gang, we've got company, exclaims Tammy King."

Got The Look

A well-balanced mind needs a well-balanced diet. Baloney! The mass of students turned out excellent work, while consuming a large quantity of sugar, preservatives, and artificial ingredients.

Many diets called for weight loss, but not the junk-food diet. You could consume as many calories as you wanted, and never get worried about gaining weight or losing your mind. However, in general the students ate good quality food. Those quality diets insured a winning year.

- 1 "Can't a person even eat in privacy?" thinks Brian Ober.
- 2 "And to think I could have had a cookie," exclaims Kim McBride as Traci Hansen and Tammy Voyer look on sympathetically.
- 3 The Ojai Rancho, of all lunch spots, this was the most crowded in 1984.
- 4 Gretchen Purdy showing the world that milk does a body good.
- 5 Part of our famous snack area looks popular.
- 6 "I wonder if I'll beat the lunch crowd?" thinks Jeff Taylor.
- 7 Jamie Grove eating her cookie and trying to decide whether to go see a friend or to her locker.

The Winner's

1. "You have to keep up with the styles, Mr. Earnest," says Lisa Pusch and Vanessa Phillips agrees.
2. Warren Glaser derives his own style of what the Navy should wear, while Robert McCombs shows us what the Navy is really like.
3. Kathy Barrett gives us the Summer look.
4. "No, Deborah, I think you should wear the green dress tomorrow, says Rick Mohney.
5. Lisa Dodge and Jennifer Anderson each have their own look.
6. Michael Chapman, giving us the casual look.
7. Matt Dugan knows he has the Winner's Look.

Look

The styles at Nordhoff this year reflected the attitude of the students. Some students dressed to impress, others just dressed. But overall, styles had a winning look.

The most fashionable style this year was the "Flashdance" look. Torn sweatshirts accent this look along with Capezio and Danskin wear. Of course, that was for the girls.

Boy's fashion seemed conservative this year. Jeans were the most popular but dress slacks also were in. Bermuda shorts, tennis shoes, and the Beat, boy-look were also right up there.

Men At

For the studious minded, it was business as usual. Homework, despite its obvious unpopularity, was a big issue. It seemed more and more got assigned. Even so, teachers seemed quite justified in doing so. Students were not getting enough challenging homework.

Whether it was men at work, or women at work, there was a lot of work to be done. In some faces desperation showed, in others coolness prevailed. All students seemed to deal rather well with it though, and came out in one piece. Even when faced with final exams, they managed to survive.

The year of 1983 - 1984 has been an exciting and challenging experience for the students at Nordhoff High School. The high standards which we set and made reality would make any school proud. There were always new ideas to be thought and new goals to be conquered. In the course of the year, students moved along at a constant blistering pace. And even if we stumbled and fell, we had courage enough to get back on our feet. This year, without doubt, proved to be a winning year.

1. The Nordhoff cross country team is ready for anything.
2. Laurel Jackson is always on the move.
3. Shane Cowan, John Harnett and Chris Cooper are caught in the act again.
4. The cheerleaders, at it again.
5. Sophomores enjoy the water during class competition.
6. Marcy Burgess practices with dedication.
7. Erika Kardly has the moves that help put Nordhoff on the map.

1. The seniors (Donnelle Peyronnin, Cindy Rodarte, Charles Hawkins, Connie Pridmore, Sandra Gates, Linda Harris, Sherry Stroud and Lynn Hallock) visit Lake Casitas for the early rowing event as part of a group of students who are most active in school events.
2. Trung Seltzer expresses his feelings for being a senior.
3. Tourists, James Johnson, and Kathy James consult their program at the International Rowing Regatta.
4. Kevin Hawkins, being such a gentleman, aids Pernille Mikkelsen as she climbs the fence . . . ladies first?
5. Donnelle Peyronnin gives us her most sophisticated look.
6. Maraika Danisch and Lily Bailey think it is nice to have a friend to lean on.
7. Cindy Rodarte and Sandra Gates know how to have a good time anywhere, anytime, anyplace.

Seniors

When the class of 1984 arrived at Nordhoff four years ago, the vision of being "Sophisticated Seniors" was very far off. But four years later, and look at the class of '84. Very somber in manner and elegant in grace, seniors have always been quite sophisticated. Rumors of previous and present clumsiness are to be denied. After all, how could an elegant senior be clumsy? Who could ever have thought these people would be classified as sophisticated?

The Senior class was led this year by class officers: Aimee DeMaria-President, Scott Shippy - Vice-President, and Class Representative - Toni Burris. Some of the class' accomplishments included raising funds and having fun by working at the Scream In The Dark at the Ventura Fair Grounds, winning first place with their Homecoming float, building the new school marquee, and "generally being the best class ever at Nordhoff" (says one Senior class member.) The Senior class of 1984 will always stand for the unity and pride that bound its members together during their four years of struggle and triumph.

Nearing The Final Stretch

The Junior class motto this year was "Eighty-Five is Alive" and this exuberance shows in the faces of the Junior class officers. Actually the Junior class this year was very spirited. They sponsored a successful dance and with the proceeds the whole class went on a pilgrimage to Mecca. On the way home, they stopped to plant trees in India. Their admirable good-deed doing didn't stop there. Toward the end of the year they answered phones for the Muscular Dystrophy Telethon and sent their vegetables to Cambodia to aid the world hunger problem. Nordhoff is very proud of their accomplishments.

Blocks

The freshman class of '87, led by Erica Williams (President), Amy Svikhart (Vice President), and Leeana Merriweather (Class Representative), has shown great spirit and pride throughout their first year at Nordhoff High School.

They have survived the starting blocks of more demanding classes, new challenges, and getting used to the new campus and teachers. They have passed through the beginning stages of high school, and are approaching adulthood with strong motivation and eagerness for the years ahead.

GOOD LUCK FRESHMEN!!!

I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead. He is just away.
With a cheery smile, and a wave of

The stadium was full and expectant. A hush lingered over the waiting crowd. A hint of fog added mystique to the mystery and glamour of the evening. The lights went out, plunging the stadium into darkness. The night was dark; it was like looking into the holes on a bowling ball. A light flared in the distant field. What was the secret that all eyes were turned to? What was the spectacle that no one knew, yet all knew, was coming? The darkness thickened. Suddenly it was split by a fantastic gleam of light in the sky. In the light, silhouette against the blanket of black sky was an enormous hot air balloon carrying the homecoming court. The crowd was awed. Never before had a spectacle of such proportions been staged at a Nordhoff homecoming. As the homecoming court made their graceful descent the stadium broke into a wild frenzy of applause. The night of Nordhoff homecoming 1983-1984 burns bright among the flames of our memories.

One thing Nordhoff High School students have plenty of is spirit. Spirit Week here at Nordhoff this year was one of the best ever. The week consisted of a tug-of-war, a dress-up day, float preparation and a barbecue. The floats took a lot of hard work and, considering it took place after hours, the turn-out was plentiful. The barbecue was sponsored by the Senior class with Warren Glaser heading the show. When the floats were finally finished they were paraded down main street for everyone to see. Spirit Week was a big success; it was a time for students to really get involved in school activities. Thank you all that helped in making the 1983-1984 school year one of the best.

Show Their Spirit

The 1983-84 varsity cheerleading squad was better than ever. They got off to a slow start this year, but once they got started, they couldn't be stopped.

All year they kept their spirit up and helped to get the crowds at all the games excited.

If the old saying, "practice makes perfect," is true, then that should be the cheerleaders motto. They spent their summer and Monday through Fridays after school in total dedication, learning cheers and song routines to help support their teams at game time.

The cheerleaders were by no means all work and no play, but they did work very hard and that got them something very important, pride.

J.V. Cheerleaders

This year the Nordhoff J.V. Cheerleaders gave our Rangers a very spirited year. Advisor Victoria Moore, worked with the girls almost every day after school. They worked extremely hard trying to learn new cheers and song routines for the next big game. They put a lot of effort out to give our Rangers pride and enthusiasm. The cheerleaders participated in a lot of different activities such as performing at rallies and raising spirit among their own classes. They also had secret pals among themselves. Altogether, the girls spent about $300.00 for their uniforms and to go to N.C.A cheerleading camp. At camp they learned cheers, jumps, and pyramids for the full four days that they spent there. The girls admitted it was a lot of work and time but it was worth giving our school "Ranger Pride".

STAFF

Every year, at every school there exists a group of people who plan, design, and create a product which will last the owners lifetime and give hours of happy walks down memory lane. This creation is of course the yearbook, and this group of people is, of course, the yearbook staff.

The staff worked after hours to meet deadlines and seemed to have a lot of fun doing it. The staff sold ads and raised funds to make an all-out effort to produce a book that they and their school would always be proud of.

This year's leadership class advisor was Mr. Steve Bennett. It is run by; Student President, Erik Willis, Vice President and School Board Representative, Scott Shippy, and students that enjoy filling the school with spirit and pride. This class is filled with students that want to help make school more than just a place to study they want to make it fun and a place you can be proud of. Their goal this year is to improve faculty and student relationships, and to organize well planned, successful activities so all Nordhoff students will be proud to be Rangers!

C.S.F.

The California Scholarship Federation (CSF) is a large group of students with a grade point average (GPA) of (3.5) or higher. They do good things for the school such as sponsoring the Christmas dance, which was a huge success. This year they sponsored a raffle to raise funds so that they could take a short trip. Each year they take a trip, with money they have raised, during Spring break. They have been to places like San Diego and San Francisco. The club's officers are President - Ramona Barreto, Vice-President - Isabel Melendez, Secretary - Lisa Baldrige, and Treasurer - Brian Ober.

Foreign Friends

This year Nordhoff was very lucky to have two foreign exchange students. They are both from Scandanavia, Pernille Mikkelsen from Denmark and Peder Scheie from Norway.

Pernille (pronounced Pe-nell-a) has thoroughly enjoyed her stay here in Ojai and at Nordhoff.

"I stayed tan all year round here" said Pernille. When she was in Ojai before, she said it was O.K., but now she loves it all because of her new friends and family who she hopes will write her.

She has just one complaint: "time just goes by too fast." She leaves a personal note in Danish: Tusind tak til min familie i Danmark, the Hawkins og mine venner herovre I har alle gjort det til en vidunderlig o plevelse.

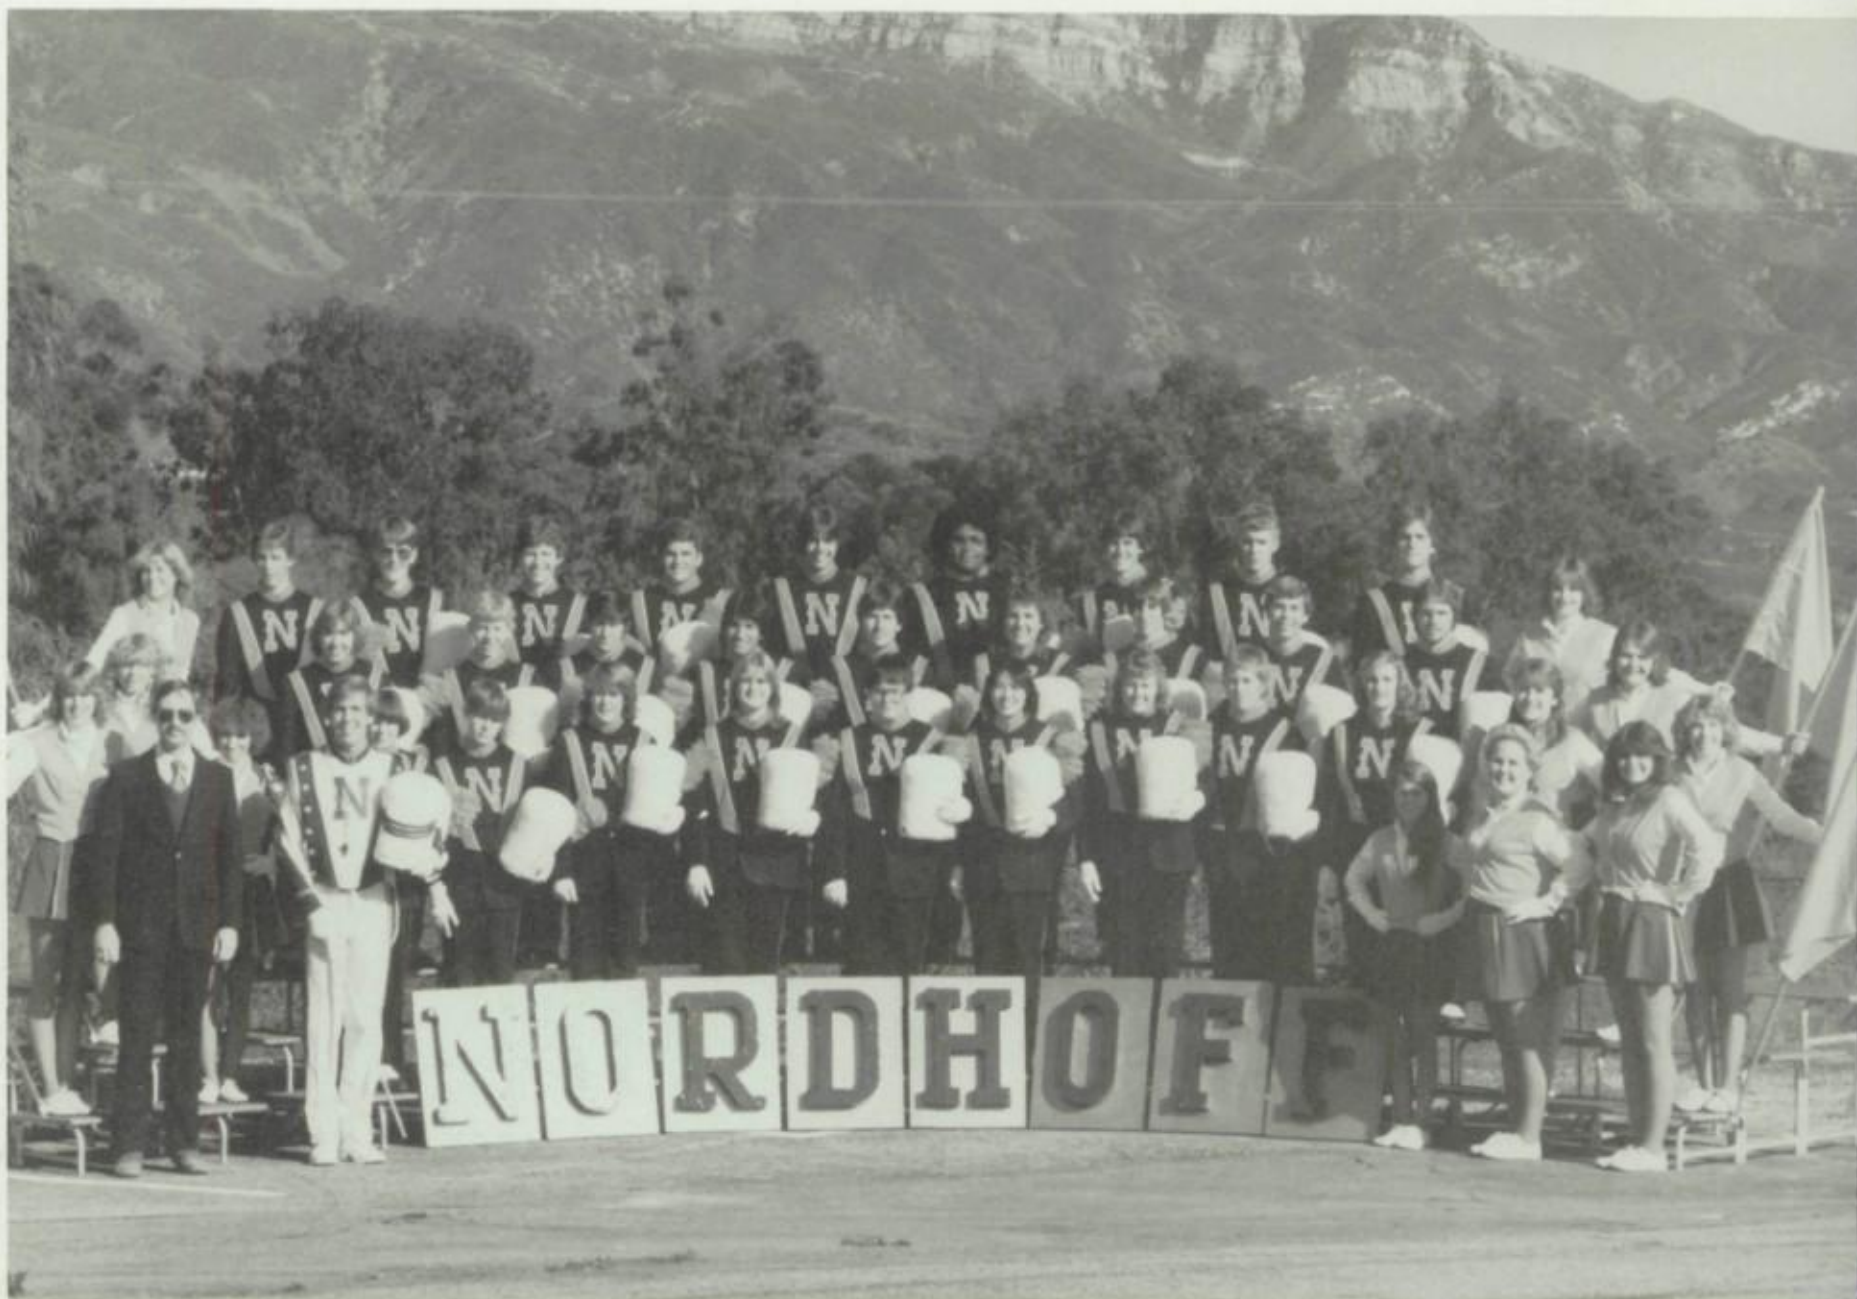

Peder enjoyed his stay here at Nordhoff because of the nice students and teachers. He would like to give thanks to all the people in Ojai that made his stay most memorable. But most especially the Childress family, who without them none of this would have been possible.

To the students of Nordhoff, Pernille and Peder have graciously given us permission to write their address so anybody and everybody can write them.

Marching Band And Flag Corps

4 ▲ 6 ▼

One of the biggest boosters of school spirit throughout the year was the Nordhoff Marching Band and Flag Corps. They performed in many spirited rallies, basketball games, and of course, the halftime shows at the home football games. In addition to this, they also put on the annual Christmas and Spring concerts. They were most noted for their numerous performances and parades throughout the year. The most outstanding performance of the year was taking first place at the Ventura County Fair Day Parade. In addition to this parade, they did quite well in the Camarillo Christmas Parade. Unfortunately, they were unable to go to the Oxnard Christmas Parade due to rain. All of this was done under the superb leadership of Scott Allan Shippy, and the excellent direction of Mr. Don Ainsworth.

A Song In Our Heart

Under the direction of Jim Malloy, Gold and Blue gave many great performances throughout the 83-84 school year.

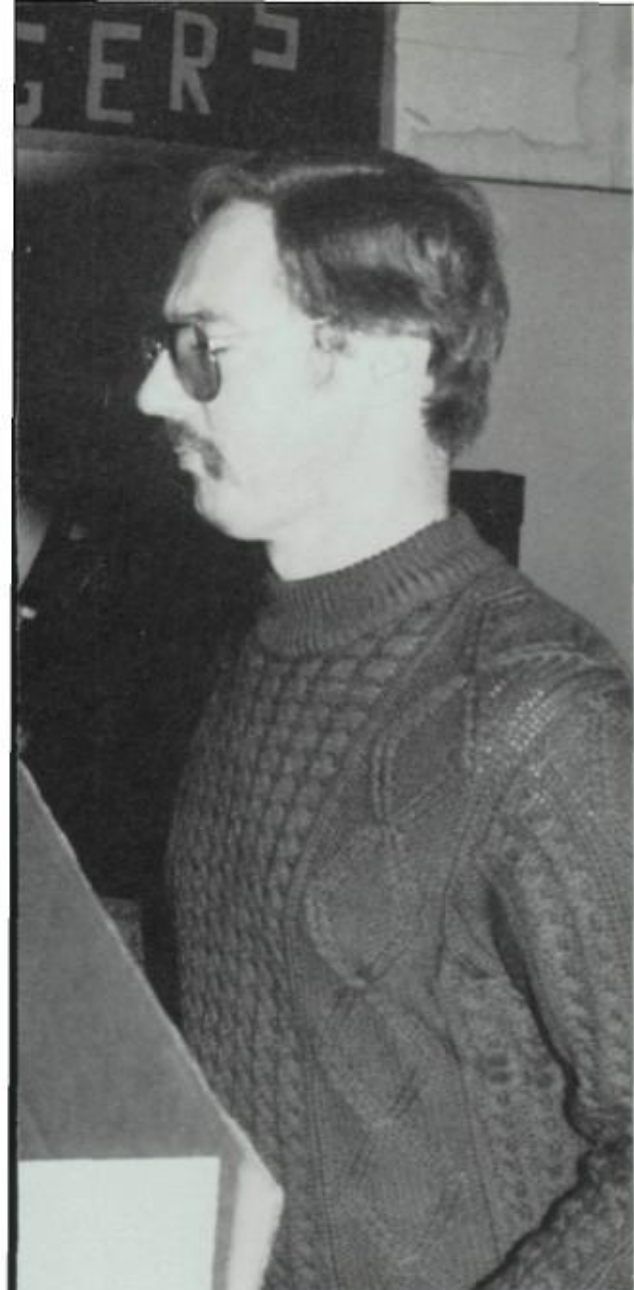

They performed for many local clubs and organizations, such as the Rotary and Optimist Clubs.

They are a group of hard working students whose talent reflects our school spirit.

3. "NO, it's from the diaphragm".

The Nordhoff Jazz Ensemble is a select group of musicians from the Nordhoff Band Program who spend their lunch hour each day in the study and performance of Jazz, Rock, and other contemporary and popular music. Although they do receive academic credit, most members participate for the sheer enjoyment of it. Several members have learned new instruments just so they can play in the band. Past and future activities have included various jazz festivals, many local appearances, and concert tours. This elite group is a Jazz Band and a whole lot more.

1. "When will they learn it's B not C!"
2. "Hold it. Stop the music."
3. "If I hear one more little drummer joke I'm going to scream".
4. Back: Scott Shippy, John Cilwick, Paul Sherman, Danielle Basich, Frank Castellanos, Kevin Kelly, Jeff Meyer, and Jay Grove, Middle: Derek Bureson, Laurel Jackson, Scarlett Howes, Jim Wysong, Conrad Harvey, Joe Meade, Drew Karst, Brian Culbertson. Front: Mr. Ainsworth, Lori Hanson.

All That Jazz

Ole! Espanol

The Spanish Club has done many things and had a lot of school spirit. This year they organized the Christmas Party, took trips to Olvera Street in Los Angeles and to Tijuana (for a day trip to experience a bullfight) had a Spring beach party, and a week-long tour of Mexico. Their activities are not limited to only these. When someone has a good idea, they do it. Mr. Musick was the advisor. There were no officers. They met often, when they felt like it to plan fun, educational activities.

Vive La France

One of Nordhoff's many clubs this year is the French Club. Along with Mrs. Allred, the advisor, the members had fun getting together for the "Fête Des Rois" (the festival of the kings.) Also, a French pastry chef showed them how to make French pastries. At the end of the year the club goes to a French restaurant where they try different types of French cuisine.

Academic Excellence

Once again, Nordhoff sent nine of their finest academic athletes to compete in the Ventura County Academic Decathlon. And, once again, our team did really well. The team placed 1st in speech and three team members walked away with individual awards. Overall, they did an excellent job.

1. Shane Cowan lives the good life while Ashley Neilsen slaves away.

It's Showtime

"All the world's a stage", "The show must go on", "Break a leg", and "It's showtime!" are all well known theatrical sayings. During both fall and spring productions these sayings were on the tips of all the actor's tongues and the spirit they invoked contributed to the spectacular success of their performances. Along with their two annual plays the Drama Club became very unified this year through a drama-thon, which they organized to raise money for the club. This years officers were Melody Rose - President, Joclyn Heaney - Vice-President, and Sherry Scott - Secretary.

Under the supervision of Mr. Rick Mohney, the Ranger News tries their best to get the eight page newspaper out once a month.

"What we really try to accomplish is to let the reporters express themselves through their writing," comments Justine Hillig, Managing Editor. "Our main purpose is to let the students at school know what's going on at Nordhoff."

The 83/84 Ranger News Staff did a great job.

Players Club

This year, the Nordhoff Player's Club (N.P.C.) became an official organization. With a common denominator of role-playing games, they enjoyed a variety of games in the past year. The highlights of the year were four major tournaments, three lesser tournaments, and some fun in between.

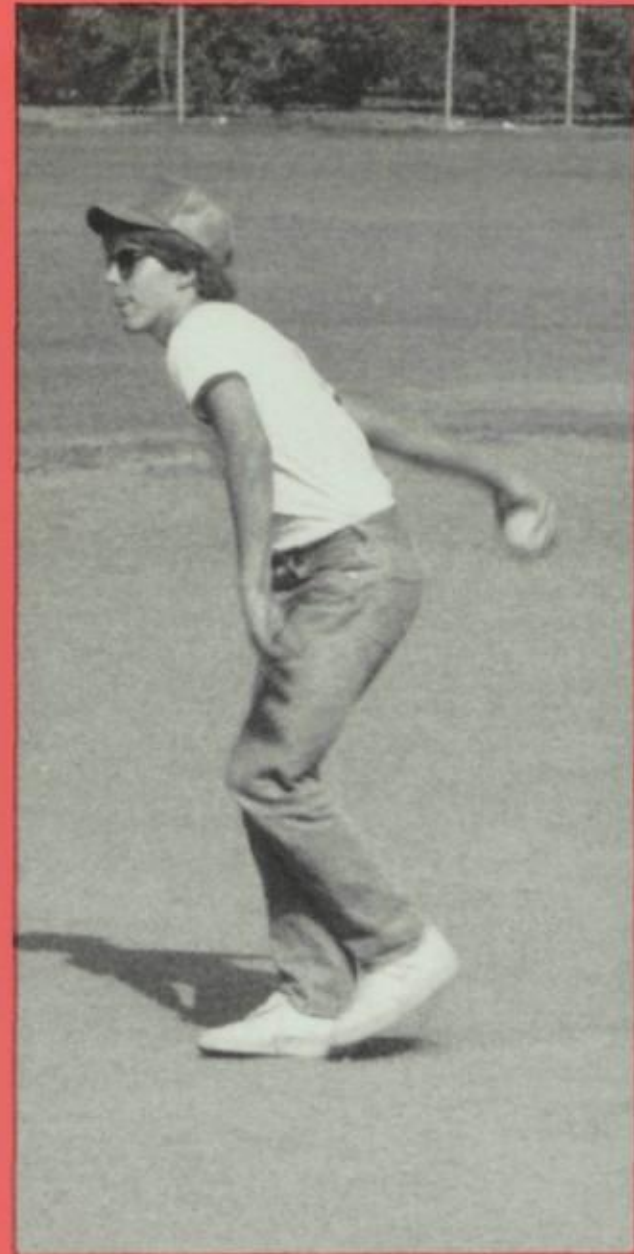

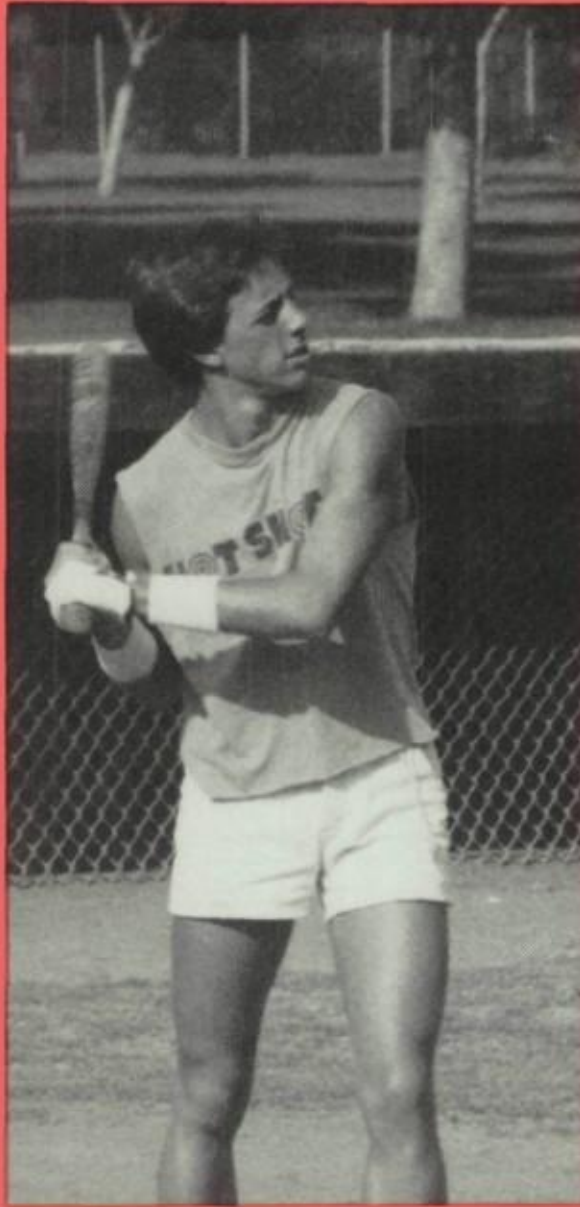

Shane Cowan, President of N.P.C., says, "The one thing I enjoy about role-playing games is how I can forget about reality and create a whole new world." Role-playing games require people who can create new worlds, adventurous characters, and an infinite menagerie of monsters. This requirement is only one of several that make Dungeons and Dragons, Runequest, Top Secret, and Gamma World unique.

Role-playing games like D & D, unlike board games, do not require a board. All that is needed is a rule book, dice, paper, and a lot of imagination. A patient referee is helpful, but the players would rather not have a referee at all.

This year the Nordhoff Varsity Football Team had a spectacular season, with their hardwork, exuberant pride, and a close feeling of unity, it was all brought together under the coaching of Smith, Cowgil, Olsen, Meyers, and Madrid. In result of the teams effort and the coaches knowledge our 1984 Varsity Football Team went on to the C.I.F. play-offs. C.I.F. was made possible with the help of the eleven All League players; First team, Ray Reames, Bill Wechsler, Fred Douglas, and Martin Lisman. Second team, James Torres, Richard Conney, Richard Ramirez, Ray Lopez, Richard Hawks, Tim Jeffris, Doug Handley. They also had three All-County players, Bill Wechsler, Fred Douglas, and Martin Lisman.

The 1983-1984 Water Polo team gained a lot of experience. For most of the J.V. players it was their first year playing, while the Varsity was more experienced. We had seven girls on our teams this year. The team spent weekends in places such as Santa Cruz and Santa Maria, funded by a swim-a-lap and the Nordhoff Booster Club.

Varsity Captains, Dave Detmer and John Hunter, and J.V. Captain, Caitlin Johnson, led the teams to 3rd place in the league while Dave Detmer and his brother Dan Detmer made all league.

Whether they won or lost, there was always a feeling of Ranger pride because everyone got along well. Coach Pride commented, "We had a lot of fun this year. Hopefully, next season we will reach C.I.F."

Tennis, A Game

The 1984 boys tennis team played all of their games this year with good skill and ability. The team had good attitudes throughout the season. All of these things together, including the help of Coach Harnett, made the team successful in both skill and spirit.

Sink Some More

The Girls basketball teams worked extremely hard this year to accomplish their goals. Dee Bennett, the girls Varsity Coach, helped the girls place third in the Nordhoff tournament. Also, Shelly Thomas made all-tournament player.

Connie Biggers, J.V. coach and assistant coach, Allan Jacobs, were a big help to the girls J.V. team. The girls had a great victory over Agoura, 30-17. Both teams had a very successful year.

7. Working together as a team, the Girls J.V. team shoots for two points.

Dribble, Pass It,

The Boys Varsity Basketball team did a fantastic job this year. Their great accomplishment this season was defeating Santa Clara not once but twice for the first time in thirteen years. Kevin Phipps and Scott Stallings were chosen to be on the All-Tournament team at the Nordhoff Tournament while Larry Messer and Richard Hawks were selected to play on the All-Tournament team at Fillmore. Larry Messer, also, broke the school record for "assists in a game" while playing Rio Mesa.

The team displayed great effort on the court and it showed on the score board as well. The Rangers and basketball fans were very proud of our League Champions who also went onto C.I.F. This great team played exciting basketball all year, with coaching from Dick Sebek.

1. The J.V. boys Basketball Team consists of (back L. to R.) Dan Svikhart, Aaron Childress, Tim Palmer, Mark Bauer, Doug Handley, Allen Hook, and Richard Gross, (front L. to R.) Kevin Bell, and Jim Hunt. They had a thrilling time on the court, doing the best they could. They put forth all their efforts in practices and games while having a fantastic time. The games were tough, but the team never lost their spirit, nor the will to do their best. The games were exciting to watch because the players illustrated determination with every move.

2. Defense for the Rangers is Aaron Childress, Mark Bauer, Dan Svikhart, and Doug Handley.

3. The Freshmen/Sophomore boys Basketball Team had a rough year but they hung in there. The players were (back L to R) Robin Frape, Larry Belshe, Doug Jones, Jeff Frost, Ron Briggs, Tim Chatard, Matt Kramer, Greg Greene, (front L to R) Ricky Petzlod, Paul Kavinoky, and Shawn Baugher. This team, also, played stimulating games and had fun on the court. Everyone knows the old saying, "It's not if you win or lose, it's how you play the game." This team is a great example of what this means. They went out and had fun while demonstrating their basketball skills.
4. Greg Greene dribbling down the court to victory.
5. Dan Svikhart hoping his shoe doesn't come untied.
6. Ron Briggs jumped above the rest.

Kick, Trap, Shoot,

With coaches like Ken Reeves and John McNeil, the soccer teams couldn't go wrong, and they didn't. Winning six non-league games, making it to the finals of a consolation bracket at the Simi Valley Soccer Tournament, and beating the second best team in the CIF were just a few of their accomplishments. The soccer teams did an outstanding job making Rangers proud by winning often.

Girls soccer at Nordhoff is a new sport, this being only the second season. The statistics for this season don't show much of an accomplishment, but on the contrary, the team achieved many goals and thoroughly enjoyed themselves this season. Coach Harry Bamberger, credited the majority of the losses to plain bad luck. The girls gained a lot of experience this year, this will hopefully contribute to future winning seasons! Awards were given to:

Kelley Kolan - Most valuable player.
Ashley Neilson - Most spirited player.
Joni Sawyer - Best defensive player.
Patricia Thatcher - Most improved.

2. Barney Connaughton: "Okay, I'll take you on. Sven, you cover me."
3. Eric Stone makes a graceful leap for the camera ...
4. ... while Casey Cansler gets camera shy.
5. The Three Musketeers of the Boys Track Team ... Jim Wysong, Roger Worsham, and Ty Jeffery.
6. But Sven Walsted, Greg McNeil, and Barney Connaughton say "No, we're the Three Musketeers!"

This years Boys Track team was one of the most determined yet. Guided by the able leadership of Coach Jack Smith, these athletes kept going, even if the going got tough. They jumped higher, ran farther and faster, and got right back up after every fall. It takes a lot of courage to get back on your feet, but the Track team did it. Every athlete in track has to have the special talents of endurance, determination, and pride. Nordhoff's Track team had just that.

Girls Make

Do you like fast paced action? Or, how about just having a good time and keeping in shape doing it? Then track is the perfect sport for you. That's what the 1984 track team found out. They were on the track almost every afternoon, working out on their own events. Each person did about 4 events and worked on doing their personal best throughout the season.

The 1984 Nordhoff swim team, under the supervision of Marc Whitman, lead an exciting and spirited season. All of the members worked both as individuals and together to form one of the best swim teams ever. Lets hope that they keep up the good work in the years to come.

Spray

One of the major projects at Nordhoff this year was raising money for the pool. The pool surface had needed repair for quite sometime as it was chipped and cracked. Thanks to everyone who helped raise that money so that we can once again be proud of our beautiful pool.

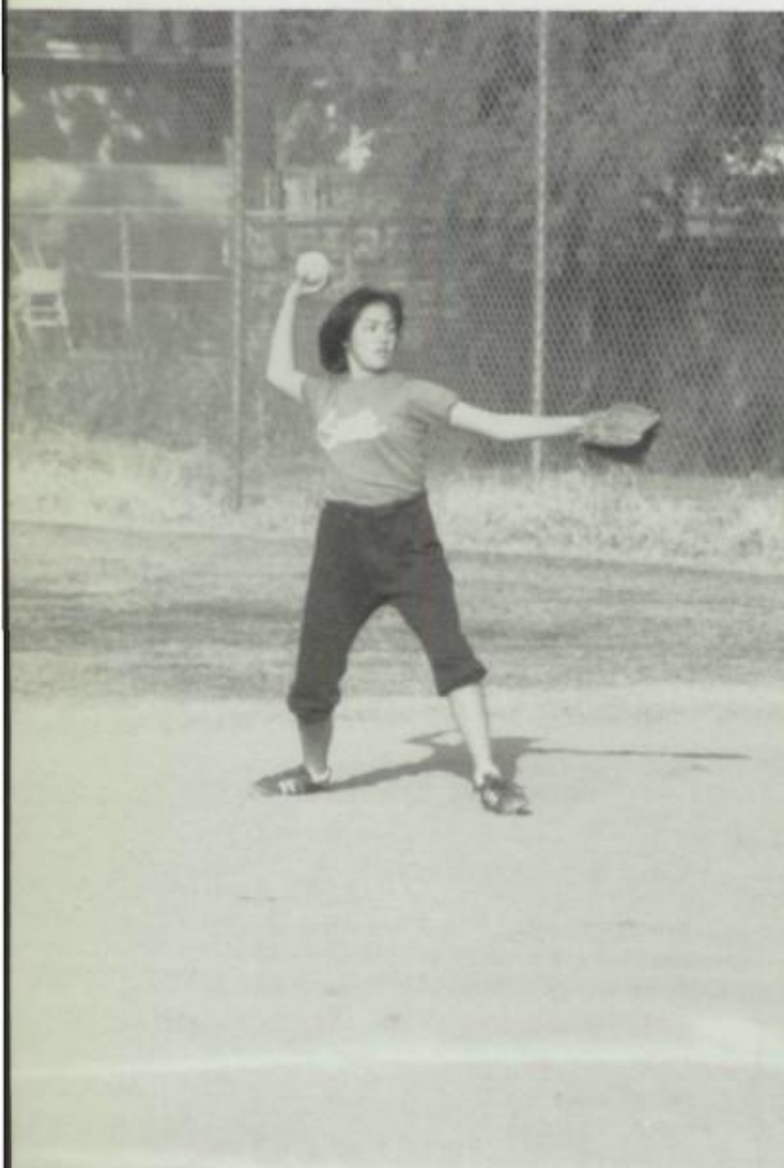

1. Matt Dugan begins his great voyage across the Pacific.
2. Adam Hunter creates the team's mascot-Finhead.

Hey Batter, Batter, Batter

The 1984 Varsity Softball Team was made up of Nordhoff's finest. The Player's, with the help of their coach, George Conrad, went on to improve their skills and had fun while doing it. They showed their pride and spirit throughout the season.

1. Dawn Anderson gets ready to make the catch of the year.
2. Jan Komura makes a play for home.

The J.V. Softball Team for 1984 really gave it their all this year. The players worked together as a team and showed their spirit, pride and unity. Coach Chuck Ring, Assistant Coach Laurel Williams and Manager Jim Shank helped bring their talents together and made it a memorable year.

1. Top Row: Assistant Coach Laurel Williams, Robin Light, Mindy Dennis, Leslie Durham, Jamie Foote, Lisa Kaiser, Elizabeth Duran, Teri Johnson, Coach Chuck Ring. Bottom Row: Manager, Jim Shank, Barbara Strieter, Wendy Corley, Sandra Chavez, Brandy Lerner, Debbie Hellwitz, Dawn Anderson, Christe Lyttle, Michelle Waggoner.

5. "This ball's for you!" sings Doug Handley.
6. "I'm training Gary Clark here to be a REAL man," remarks Richard Ramirez.

Run, Homer!

The Nordhoff 1984 Varsity Baseball Team got off to a late start this year due to the basketball playoffs. Defense returned only two starters from the 1983 season. Offensively, Nordhoff had plenty of depth with Martin Lisman, Ray Reames, Scott Stallings, and Ken Beisel.

Pitchers for the 1984 season included all league selection; Scott Stallings, and Ray Reames.

In addition, Nordhoff received help from Scott Smith (junior transfer) and Kevin Phipps.

Ranger's Best Friend

Dr. Leo Molitor has made life more pleasant for Nordhoff students because he has had a large amount of experience working with teenagers. He has been at Nordhoff for seven years and has been in the education business for twenty-six years. He has worked as a principal, vice-principal, teacher, counselor, and has studied at the University of Paris, UCSB, USC, UCLA, and the University of Minnesota.

Ever since he has come to Nordhoff he's made many great improvements in all areas. Principal-wise he is a very good organizer and a strong leader. Socially ... well he's the Rangers best friend.

Dr. Molitor showing the little boy in him.

Working Hard For Nordhoff

Mrs. Susana Arce, a friendly face around Nordhoff's campus, is our Assistant Principal and has been for three years.

Mrs. Arce stays very busy contributing to Nordhoff's education system. She also stays busy at home with her hobbies; cooking, walking, reading, and movie watching.

Mrs. Arce majored in English at San Jose State College and has worked at Nordhoff for seventeen years.

Mr. James Berube has been at Nordhoff for five years and taught at Chaparral and Thacher.

He received his Masters at Cal Lutheran, and also began an ad agency in Vancouver, Canada.

His hobbies include tennis, golf, and photography.

Counselors

Roy Rodriguez, top left, has been with Nordhoff for seven years. He enjoys working with the different individual students and is always willing to give a helping hand to insure a good curriculum. Before he was a counselor here at Nordhoff, he taught subjects such as, typing, life science, biology, earth science and Spanish 1-4. Not only is he a counselor but he also teaches earth science, which shows his incredible flexibility in the world of education.

In his spare time he enjoys snow skiing, tennis, golf, backpacking, writing about sports, and relaxing on the beach.

Keith Seymour, bottom left, has been a counselor for eighteen years. Besides being a counselor, he taught physical education, English, speed reading, and coached basketball for seven years. To top it off, he was the Dean of boys at Matilija Jr. High School. He enjoys working at Nordhoff because of the variety of people he gets to work with.

He enjoys many activities such as, snow skiing, backpacking, and spending his summers in Idaho.

Phyllis Quimby, bottom right, has been with Nordhoff since 1980. In the past she has taught Spanish, English, history and physical education. Aside from being a counselor she enjoys reading, swimming, and traveling.

She was born in Mexico and lived there for sixteen years. She also lived in Germany for three years. When asked what she enjoys about her work, the reply is simple and short, "these are great people."

Campus Supervisor & Aides

The teacher's aides are invaluable assets to our school, who are constantly helping teachers, students, too the school in general.

1. Helping out in special education are Shirley Prado, Carolyn Belshe and Carmen Robertson. Without them students would have to rely on Mrs. McGroty alone. They are well liked by students and faculty alike.
2. Phil McCullough, below, is our on and off campus supervisor. He is in charge of making sure the kids are obeying the rules at all times. He helps the teachers tremendously by assisting in disciplinary problems, which give the teachers more valuable time to teach. He has been a great help to students, staff and faculty alike.
3. Other aides are Shirley Prado and Fran Brooks. They really like their job because it gives them an opportunity to help others.

Mathematics

With the rise of the Computer Age, mathematics has become an extremely important part of education for Nordhoff students.

1. Mathematics teachers, back row, L-R: Les Stookey, Lamar Burnett, Craig Walker, George Conrad, and Lee Burns. Front row, L-R: Deno Lepas, Jack Smith, Marion Earnest, and John Harnett.
2. While his students are busy at home studying their physics, Mr. Umholtz relaxes by the poolside.
3. Mr. Ainsworth takes time out to help students with their activities.

Language Department

The English Department has offered an abundant variety of courses. There is something for everyone whether they are average or accelerated. In addition to the basic English, there are creative writing, yearbook, composition, and journalism courses.

The Nordhoff students and faculty give great thanks to our Foreign Language staff. Aside from the language itself, students are able to expand their knowledge of foreign lands, in both the historical viewpoint of the language, and its influences.

3. Foreign Language teachers, L-R: Angela Polo-Dixon, Dan Musick, and Elsa Allred.

The Sciences

What is a mole if it's not a furry animal or a brown bump on your skin? Why do starfish always "eat out"? How many bones are in the human hand? The world of science not only offers answers to the questions of the workings of the world, as in Physics and Chemistry, but also opens up the wonders, as in Biology and Oceanology. The science courses involve textwork as well as special projects and laboratory work giving the inquisitive student a broad understanding of the expansive realm of science.

The Social Sciences include history, geography, economics and government. The social science department at Nordhoff offers courses in World, U.S., and California history. AP U.S. history is one of a handful of advanced placement courses offered here at Nordhoff and it's quite a dynamic adventure into the history of the United States. An understanding of history is crucial to an understanding of the world that you live in.

Physical And

Special Education

Sarah Riebel and Lynne McGrorty are Nordhoff's Resource Specialist teachers. Students who need a bit more attention in their studies get patience and encouragement from these two dedicated teachers. In their dealings with their students they exhibit a special ability to help where help is needed. Nordhoff is grateful to these two women and the special qualities that they possess.

A healthy mind and a healthy body go hand in hand. The P.E. department here at Nordhoff understands this important correlation between physical well-being and mental achievement. The P.E. courses offered include; general classes, which touch on a variety of sports, and specific courses, which go in depth into a certain sport, such as tennis, swimming or soccer. Skill and stamina, as well as the rules of the game and good sportsmanship are all part of the balanced sports curriculum.

Arts And Home Ec.

1. Fine Arts

Fine Arts consists of making crafts such as ceramics, drawing, and painting. Maynard Chapman teaches students how to use their hands to produce many beautiful crafts. Lamar Burnett teaches the art of drawing and painting. It is a way the students can express themselves, and a great learning experience. These artistic classes are greatly enjoyed by the students.

2. Industrial Arts

Industrial Art teachers are Lee Burns, Mark Capritto and Deno Lepas. They teach cabinet making, woodshop, auto mechanics, and mechanical drawing. The students in these classes work hard but they have a great time while having fun. They learn a skill that will be treasured by them for life.

3. Home Economics

Home Economic students learn how to take care of the problems and pleasures of home life. They learn how to cook from Brenda Knight and to sew from Betty Earnest. The students learn the essentials of cooking and sewing. They can do well at home on their own after taking these classes.

Business And Drama

The Computer Programming class at Nordhoff is not only educational but a lot of fun. This class prepares many for the oncoming jobs of the future. It is an introduction to understanding computers and how they work. Magnus Studer is the energetic teacher of this class. He enjoys preparing students for the new way of life.

Business Ed. prepares the students for a business job which will help them start a career. They learn typing, book-keeping and basic business procedures. The typing can also help when doing that famous term paper. The teachers are (from l to r) Phyllis Quimby, Sharon Knoles, Diane Young, and Pinky Belshe.

The Drama class always puts on great plays and they did not let us down this year either. The instructor was Brian Cutter, who succeeded in teaching the students how to express themselves on stage. The students enjoy the class and will treasure the experience of acting forever.

The People Who Keep Us

5. Keeping our school clean are Bob Irwin, Alfonso Ruiz, Josephine De'Leon, Joe Powers with the help of Leroy.
6. Keeping maintenance up are Claude Irwin, Robert (Turk) Ahlers, and Jim Carraway.

INTERNATIONAL

1. On April 18, 1983, the U.S. Embassy in Lebanon was destroyed by a car loaded with two tons of TNT that passed security guards and then exploded on contact with the Embassy.

2. When Cabbage Patch Doll's made their debut in early '83 the public could have cared less, but come Christmas they were the hottest craze since teddy bears.

1A The top news story of the year, according to a poll of United Press International subscribers, was the continuing strife in Lebanon with the terrorist bombing attack on the U.S. Marine barracks, in Beirut,

U.S. Marines were sent to Lebanon to help keep peace. On April 18, 1983 at 6:22 A.M. a bomb shattered the U.S. Embassy in Beirut, killing Americans. While the threat of car bombs continued, Lebanese army and Moslem gunner fighting still continued.

Israeli, Lebanese and U.S. Negotiators agreed on an agenda for talks regarding withdrawal of foreign forces from Lebanon.

U.S. warships cruised in waters, not only off Lebanon but also off the coast of Central America. On November 4, 1983, troopers from the U.S. Army's 82 Airborne Division returned to Fort Bragg, N.C., fatigued from their assault on Grenada and the 10 day securing of that island.

Other big news stories of the year included Pope John Paul II who made an eight-day trip to Central America and Haiti. He addressed 500,000 at an outdoor mass in El Salvador; the government reported 18 terrorists planned to kill the pontiff.

Christine Craft, was ousted from her job as anchor person at KMBC-TV in Kansas City. She sued and won $500,000 in damages for sex discrimination. Two months later the presiding judge claimed the jury had been prejudiced by "pervasive publicity" surrounding the case and recalled the award.

A monster earthquake, 7.1 on the Richter scale, ravaged eastern Turkey in late October. 50 remote villages were flattened and at least 1,300 people died, many of them children.

Agent 007 had a double-take in the summer. One in Octopussy and the other Never Say Never Again. Also, big in the movie business were sequels: Superman III, Porky's II, Psycho II. But the most eagerly awaited movie of '83 was Return of the Jedi, it being the biggest money maker of the year. Other popular movies were: Flashdance, Staying Alive, Mr. Mom, Vacation, and Trading Places.

On television this year people saw specials like Motown 25: Yesterday, Today, and Forever Special Bulletin. We also saw movies and mini-series like "Something about Amelia", "Winds of War", "The Thorn Birds", and the record smashing 2 1/2 hour final episode of "M*A*S*H". The main man of T.V. was, Mr. T. Joan Rivers was T.V.'s woman of the year.

Fads were very big this year. The biggest was the "Flashdance" off the shoulder sweatshirt. Inspired by Jennifer Beals in the Block-buster movie, by the same name, you could go to almost any high school and know ahead just what kids would be wearing. Other fads were computers. A group of boys in Milwaukee tapped into a top-secret laboratory, but weren't ever charged with illegal entry. '83' was also the year of the male hunk. America was filled by young new heart throbs like Rob Lowe, Jon-Erik Hexum, Michael Pare, Pierce Brosnan, and Risky Business' Tom Cruise.

Arrivals and newcomers were hot this year. The world was filled with fresh new faces, personalities, voices, and a new football league. We saw the springtime debut of the United States Football League, which started in March with average ratings. Arriving on the music scene was Boy George, Culture Club's flamboyant front man (?). With three top-ten songs off of their first album, Kissing To Be Clever, this English group really bombarded the American charts. One reporter remarked, "Boy that girl can sing!"

Impact. That's how you would describe 1983's Miss America. For nearly 40 of its 62 years blacks had been barred from the pageant, but on September 17, Vanessa Williams became the first black to wear the glittering crown. The first runner-up was also black.

Acting-wise, 1983 was host to a bevy of newcomers, starting with Flashdance's Jennifer Beals. Even though she didn't do the dancing in the film, Ms. Beals was undeniably the star of the show. Mathew Broderick's career skyrocketed with movies like War Games and Max Dugan Returns plus his award winning performance in Brighton Beach Memoirs. Diane Lane was dubbed Hollywood's "Princess Di", having made over 20 films in her 18 year life-span. On the cover of "Time" magazine at 14, she knows where she's heading in life, the top.

Music news was also hot this year. Another British invasion poured into the U.S. With bands like Duran Duran, Culture Club, The Eurythmics and Big Country you could tell what country had musical talent. Some of the top albums of the year were: Thriller, Synchronicity, Flashdance, H<sub>2</sub>O, Let's Dance and Cargo. They were all as diverse as you could get. Rick Springfield, Lionel Richie, Bonnie Tyler, Irene Cara, John Cougar Mellencamp, Pat Benetar, Sheena Easton, to name only a handful, made 1983 a year in which music felt good again.

Space ... the final frontier. With the current increase in space travel, Nordhoff students contemplated the idea of a life in outer-space. Nordhoff boys chose Christi Brinkley and Nordhoff girls chose Tom Cruise for company. (Alice, how did you get in there?) Some of the more practical students wanted to be stranded with food, oxygen and God. Who or what would you like to be stranded in space with?

What would we do without our friends? Undoubtedly, as the polls suggest, friends are valued highly by Nordhoff students, being the people who we can most easily tell our problems to and the people who we'll remember most from our high school years. The kids at Nordhoff know that if they support their friends everyone will come out a winner.

Once again this year, Nordhoff voters cast their ballots for their favorite teacher. When the votes were tabulated, leading in the popular vote was Mr. Heller. Above, displaying his winning style is Bob by himself. Mr. Heller is the perfect gentleman; he demonstrates by holding the door for Alice Vail, also a popular faculty member.

Shirley McClaine graciously accepts the Nordhoff student body's award for her film, voted by students as the favorite of 1983, Terms of Endearment. Terms of Endearment, a poignant story of an off-beat mother/daughter relationship just squeezed into the number one position past Ricky Business; the story of an enterprising teen-age boy who operates his own bordello when the folks go out of town and then has the time of his life on a train. It was a case of emotion vs locomotion with emotion taking the top spot.

At The Polls

Van Halen received Nordhoff's vote for favorite musical group of 1983. During the year they had a tremendous smash in their half heavy-metal, half pop hit "Jump". It immediately "Jump"ed to the top of the charts and the top of our poll. U2, Motley Crue and the Police round out the top four.

The graph at the left shows a breakdown of Nordhoff students' after-high-school plans.

If Nordhoff students could travel to any foreign country they wanted they'd head no where other than down under. Australia, land of lush scenery and warm surf was rated as the dreamiest of dream spots by a majority of students. What was the reason? Possibly the great surfing, possibly the tropical climate, possibly the bewitching accent of its natives, or perhaps to visit its rare and exotic animals, like Rocky the boxing kangaroo right.

EDITORS PAGE

Many of you readers may not know what we've been trying to get across with our theme, "The Winning Year." Instead of composing the theme with words, we chose to express it through photos and feelings. As I reflect on my three years here at Nordhoff, I realize that they've all been and sometimes sad, a time for growing with myself and with my friends. Because these years are few and the memories fleeting we need something to help us return to the time of our youth, our High School years.

This book, the result of a lot of work on the part of the staff, the editors, and myself is that something. Believe me, I haven't been on the staff for three years and Editor for two just for the grade! In a way, I feel I'm giving back a little bit of what Nordhoff has inspired in me. This book is a symbol of the pride, creativity, and countless happy memories that I've acquired here. As for the rest of the Editors, staff, and my advisors - Mrs. Landon and Mrs. Essick, I know their intentions were as sincere as mine. I appreciate and thank them.

So, I guess that's about it. I hope all of you understand now what our theme is meant to convey. Be proud to be a Ranger, be a winner!

A COMPLETION BOND ON EVERY JOB

- ★ Free Estimates
- ★ Free Planning Ideas
- ★ Financing Available

Every once in a while a customer starts us on a job saying "price is no object" ... but it's not usually that way.

More often our customers see remodeling or room additions as a major investment.

We have 2 suggestions—

1. Before you hire any contractor, before you make up your mind ... let us give you a Free Estimate.

Frankly, we're a small firm. We're family owned and we can show you how to get the exact results you want — at a cost that's often substantially lower than our competition.

It costs nothing to find out.

2. If you're at all handy, let us rough the job ... tell us to complete it only to the point where you can take over.

This "semi do-it-yourself" approach can mean a savings.

If you can finish the job yourself you should investigate this money saving opportunity.

It's up to you — either way you get top value for your dollar...

Call Mr. Build Con-Sol Construction today.
